Army Plane Performs Here Tomorrow

DAREDEVIL ARRIVES AT 4:40 TODAY

LIEUT. SLADE WILL FLY AT 10 O'CLOCK TOMORROW
MORNING.

ACROBATIC STUNTS
AT 4,000 FEET

Two Army Captains and Flyer
Will Be Given Supper at Myers This Evening.

Thrilling maneuvers in the sky at an altitude of from 3,000 to 4,000 feet above the city will be demonstrated tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to thousands of Janesville citizens by Lieut. William Slade, pilot attached to the Camp Grant aviation recruiting station.

Lieut. Slade will land at the fair grounds at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon.
Before landing he will go through a series of aerial acrobatics above the city, putting, in his fast, plane through loops, dives, tail-spins and other stunts that military aviators used against their desperate opponents over the battle fields.

Lieut. Slade will remain over night here, repeating his performance, with the addition of a few more stunts, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, returning to Camp Grant about noon. He will be accompanied in his flights by his mechanic, Sgt. L. B. Von Leer, a Hollander.

Capt. Alex McLeod, a fighting flyer who served in France as a member of a famous French escadrille, and as an American aviator, and Capt. John

In watching the airplane flights this afternoon and tomorrow morning, all people who go to the fair grounds must absolutely keep back of the fence on the mile track, the fair association ordered today. Horses trotting on the track will endanger those who fail to obey this order.

Harrison, another flyer, will arrive in Janesville as part of the recruiting pedion later in the afternoon. They will make the trip here by auto.

Recruiting Office Opens Recruiting offices will be opened in a room on the second floor of the post-office building tomorrow morning. Either Capt. McLeod or Capt.
Harrison will maintain there until Saturday afternoon to talk over enlistments with young men interested in entering the service. Efforts are being made to obtain 15,000 men for aviation duty in the army to be in the United States the supremacy of the air in the future.

The three officers and Sgt. Von Leer will be guests of honor at an informal supper at the Myers hotel at 7:30 o'clock this evening. A number of business men have been invited to be present at the affair. A general invitation is extended to all who might be interested in seeing these daring knights of the sky.

Capt. McLeod was only recently released from a hospital where he received treatment for wounds received in a bold dash through the German aircraft fire to carry valuable information to American army commanders on the Verdun front. He has four German planes officially to his credit and has been shot down by the young pilot.

He will give a short talk at the supper this evening on "The Future of the Airplane" and will probably talk on some of his experiences over the front.

Capt. Harrison will speak on "Development of the Airplane as a Commercial Proposition." His remarks will be of interest to business men especially.

Fair Grounds Ready
Lieut. Slade has consented to come to Janesville for an exhibition of daredevil tactics at the Janesville fair grounds. The fair association officials were enthusiastic when notified yesterday afternoon of the coming of the army plane today and immediately made arrangements to have the long grass on the east half of inside of the half mile track cut down, so as to provide a suitable landing place.

A mower was put on the job early this morning. At two o'clock this afternoon the grass on the entire east half of the field had been cut, making an almost perfect landing place for Lieutenant Slade.

Upon completing his maneuvers at 5:30 this afternoon, Lieutenant Slade will leave his machine at the fair grounds. Special police will be detached to guard the plane there over night.

Streets Cleared In Winnipeg

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Winnipeg, Man., June 11.—Mayor Charles F. Gray, in a proclamation published this morning, urged citizens to assist in the maintenance of law and order by keeping off the streets as much as possible and attending strictly to business.

"I wish to avoid the use of sterner methods if possible," the proclamation read, "but will use whatever methods are necessary to preserve law and order."

ELIHU ROOT SAYS HE GOT TREATY FROM N. Y. BANKER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, June 11.—Former Senator Elihu Root of New York, appearing unexpectedly before the senate foreign relations committee today, testified that it was he who showed a copy of the peace treaty to Senator Lodge.

Mr. Root testified that he got it from Henry P. Davidson of the Morgan Banking house, who had been during an hour's testimony in the witness chair. Mr. Root said he thought President Wilson was within his constitutional rights in not sending the treaty to the senate but thought it perfectly legitimate for the senate to ask for it after it had been published by the German government.

Chairman Lodge at the opening of the hearing read a telegram from Jacob Schiff, saying he knew "absolutely nothing directly or indirectly" regarding the treaty and then called Elihu Root explaining that he appeared voluntarily and had requested to be heard.

"I have a copy of that so-called treaty, have had it for several weeks," said Mr. Root. It was sent to me by H. P. Davidson, chairman of the International Red Cross league. I found upon my right to have it. I assert the entire propriety of his giving it to me.
He had it because of his legitimate interests in the Red Cross, involved in the treaty."

"It was not a secret document," continued Mr. Root, "parts of it, notably the covenant of the league of nations had been published."

Zip, then back on the train. That is about the way it goes. Flying from Janesville to Chicago in one hour and afternoon with me strapped in the front seat, a novice sky aspirer. The plane lifted into the air at the Janesville fair grounds at 5:20 and swooped down in a three circle spiral straight to earth drop at the Maywood flying field
at 7 o'clock sharp.

Plane Bumps Winds.
Bumping the winds, when the plane gets a little jolt, drops down a notch or two, and starts off again—rocking
the waves, all the joys of motoring, ocean sailing, (not speaking from experience), heading, sight seeing, and a few extra thrills when there is nothing more stable than ozone beneath you, were all squeezed into an ambiguous aviator's feeling department in that first heavenward flight.

Soaring into the clouds, not even minding the fence that made the spectators hearts jump at the start at the fair grounds, flying upwards over the city, the Northwestern railroad track, which served as a baedeker to Pilot Hassell, the plane put her nose to Chicago. Flying over the city, St.
Mary's church, the Jefferson school, hor, (320 South Third street) were among the many places easily identified.

"Keep your mouth shut" must have originated in the aviator's lesson book.
He was told that at least it is put into practical application in their line.
"Keep your mouth shut" was the order I received before morning.

No Chatter or Talk Breathe through your nose they said. No one needed to tell me to keep my mouth shut. I didn't find an earthly chance to open it. No one to talk to, no flies around. Conversation at a standstill. The noise of the motor, the whirr of the propeller, coupled with the fact that I was preceding the "boss" by three or four feet, occupying a seat in the orchestra pit, made passing remarks on the weather or such, rather passe.

But even then there are means of communication.
He punched me in the back of the head and pointed down, way, way down, to two little ponds, which looked about a block apart. He couldn't make me understand what it was all about. When we reached Chicago he told me the two ponds were Geneva and Delavan lakes. But then they were only 3,800 feet below us. Just right for a high dive, eh, Anders?

Rock County Shows up Fine.
The gods must look down on Rock county as a beauty spot for some eyes.
A bird's eye view pronounces it something.

Rock county farmers could only get up in heaven on a temporary furlough and look down on their handiwork below they would undoubtedly be shocked at their artistic ability.
Then would come a grand rush to get a job as a designer of kitchen linoleum patterns.

Daughter of Royalty

Stefanelle Sciarra Colonna.
Little Stefanelle Sciarra Colonna,
the daughter of Princess Sciarra Colonna of Rome, may accompany her mother to the United States after peace has been concluded. The Colonna family stands high in Roman aristocracy.

As Things Look From Above To a Novice in Flying Machine

[By HARRIETTE WHEATON]
Steaming your way into heaven is one sure way of getting pretty close to the golden gates and when it comes to excitement Dante's visit to the lower regions can't put anything over on a flying machine. Flying from Janesville to Chicago in one hour and afternoon with me strapped in the front seat, a novice sky aspirer. The plane lifted into the air at the Janesville fair grounds at 5:20 and swooped
down in a three circle spiral straight to
earth drop at the Maywood flying field
at 7 o'clock sharp.

Earth Looks Like Velvet.
The old friends, dirt and grass, which cause many a collapsed foot on the weary walker, looks from 3,000 feet in the air like the softest velvet carpet scuffed here and there by feet. No hills nor valleys, ditches nor mudholes, can be seen from above.
The hills the aviator's eyes. Lakes look like ponds from up there. All buildings are seen plainly.

Persons couldn't be distinguished at all after we had reached the higher diving level, though I stared with both eyes wide open at every town we passed.
Automobiles looked like bugs crawling along, the clothes line, cows looked like little baby pigs about a day old, and the little pigs, well we guess they looked like a flu germ or like an invisible hairpin should look.

Roads stood out with distinction. But if you ever want to see a really straight line go up in the air and take a glance at the railroad track. Right of way, ship ahoy, straight ahead.

We faced a passenger train up the line and she put up a pretty stiff fight, keeping space with her "superior"
past three stations.

On that reminds me, we could often see two towns at one time, sometimes three, and on the Chicago front at a time from our perspective in the next gallery above "nigger heaven." The cloudy happiness of the upper regions somewhat hindered a clear view for more than 15 miles or so.

Neither Sick Nor Scared.
Everyone is asking if I was sick or frightened. No, neither. I felt as much at ease up there in the clouds as I do sitting right here in my little old chair.
The motor was doing its work. The aviator knew his business. I had perfect confidence in him. I felt pretty sure he wasn't going to go and kill himself just for fun, especially so as he had said he had to hustle to Chicago as he had a date for the theater.
But it didn't look much like theater when he got to Chicago. But then you never can tell.

Through the courtesy of Alfred Decker-Cohn Co., Chicago handlers of Society Brand linen, I was adequately taken care of on landing. A representative from their office was on hand with taxi and a good appetite.

An hour and 40 minutes from Janesville to Chicago. One hour and a half from Maywood to State and Madison streets. Before and after taking.

OLD SETTLERS' PICNIC, COOKSVILLE, JUNE 19

[By Special Correspondent.]
Evansville, June 11.—The annual Old Settlers' picnic for the vicinity of Evansville will be held at Cooksville, Thursday, June 19.

HUNS DENIED MANDATORY OF COLONIES

REPARATIONS PORTION OF
REPLY BY ALLIES IS READY.

TREATY TEXT IS NOT CHANGED

"Big Four" Hope For Early Decision On Answer To Germany.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, June 11.—The reply to the German counter proposals agreed upon by the peace conference heads refuses the German request for a mandate for the former German colonies, it was learned today.

A lengthy memorandum gives the reasons for the refusal and explains the operations of the league of nations on colonial matters.

Reparations Part Completed.
The reparations portion of the reply, which has been completed and has reached the printer does not fix the total sum which the Germans must pay. The text of the treaty itself is not changed but the reply contains assurances to Germany regarding the method of the reparations press, explaining that it is a workable arrangement.

Official announcement was made after the meeting to the Council of Four this afternoon that the decision on the reply to Germany. It was said an agreement, in principle, was reached on the reparations clauses, to the effect that no definite sum was to be paid by Germany will be fixed in the treaty and that the question would be left virtually as in the original draft.

In French circles it was stated today that the treaty as again submitted to the Germans will be much less altered than has been generally supposed.

Change Payment Requirements.
The only vital change that will be suggested by the committee which has been studying the financial clauses of the peace treaty in the light of the German counter proposals is that the committee on reparations may be given a wider latitude and certain powers in determining the uses to be made of the money paid by Germany.
It is understood. As originally drawn the financial clauses specified that first payments from the money to be paid by Germany would be for the maintenance of the army of occupation and that next would come payments for reparations. Under the revised plan the committee has one emergency.

The members of the commission on harbors and waterways have discovered many points in which they believe the waterways section can be improved and there are indications that a split report may be made to the peace conference.

BERGER'S RIGHT TO SIT IN HOUSE CHALLENGED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, June 11.—Victor J.
Berger, representative-elect from the fifth Wisconsin district, challenged through counsel today, the right of the house of representatives to order his expulsion to deprive him of his seat.

Victor Berger's right to sit in the house of representatives while under a sentence of imprisonment for the
of the espionage act, was brought to an issue before the house elections committee.

Running on the socialist ticket,
Berger defeated Joseph P. Carey, democrat, and William H. Stafford, republican, in November, 1918. He then was under indictment and subsequently was convicted, but is at liberty on bail pending an appeal to the supreme court.

The committee had before it today
a brief filed by Harry R. McLogan, counsel for Carey, setting forth the facts of the case and asking that the fifth Wisconsin district and that Berger was disqualified and ineligible.

The brief charged that from the date of America's entrance in the war until the date, November, 1918, election, Berger, as editor of the Milwaukee Leader, had been injecting subversive ideas into the public mind with intent to interfere with the operation or success of the military or naval forces of the United States.

Served in France, But Record Was in Doubt

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS]
Topeka, Kans., June 11.—Captain Luther R. Tillotson, U. S. A., retired, formerly of the 10th Engineers, wants to know if he was ever in the military service.

The captain thought he was when he served with the engineers of the Thirty-fifth division in the mud and water and cold of France. He continued to think so until he received a curt note from the war department asking him if he had ever reported for service, and if he had to be repaid by the said endorsement or he would have his commission cancelled.

Villa Forces in Clean Sweep

El Paso, Tex., June 11.—Information reaching El Paso this morning is that forces under Gen. Felipe Angeles and Francisco Villa have swept the country of Samalayuca, northeast in three separate columns, to the vicinity of Guadalupe, 32 miles east of Juarez, and have a clean sweep toward the border city.

FIRST ROCK COUNTY GIRL TO FLY ARRIVES SAFELY IN CHICAGO

Bucking a stiff gale the entire distance, B. R. J. Hassell, driving Society Brand airplane II, accompanied by Miss Harriette Wheaton of the Gazette editorial staff, reached Chicago at 7 o'clock last evening. The 80 intervening miles between Janesville and Chicago were covered in an hour and 40 minutes, or one hour and 35 minutes faster than the fastest railroad train operating between here and the Illinois metropolis.

"Arrived 7 o'clock, great trip, feeling fine." That is the word Miss Wheaton, one of the first women in Wisconsin to take the cross country flight sent back to Janesville on her arrival at Chicago.

Miss Wheaton taking her first flight took the air like a regular, and on her arrival at the city she declared that the trip was wonderful.

Pilot Hassell swooped down from the sky at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon at exactly 4:50 o'clock. He did not lose a minute's time.

Miss Wheaton completed her day's work yesterday before taking the trip and was on hand this morning at the usual hour. She did not lose a minute's time.

Left Madison accompanied by Mrs. H.
Potter at 4 o'clock. He said the trip would have been made in less time if it hadn't been for a stiff gale.
Hundreds of people thronged the grounds long before the arrival of the aviator, and were on hand when he planned to earth.

Miss Wheaton was at the grounds waiting the arrival of the airplane.
The trip was in rapid motion. The return flight when the aviator arrived here. Gasoline and oil were on hand and after he had examined his machine announced he was ready to start.

Miss Wheaton, without the least signs of nervousness, calmly took her seat, and after a short run across the field the machine arose amid the cheers of the onlookers.

At Evansville the fair grounds was crowded with people watching for the approach of the plane carrying the first woman to fly across the country.
The hum of the high motor was heard and the cry "He is coming!" went up from the onlookers. Despite the watchfulness of the crowd, the pilot, Professor Cole, was not knowning he was so near.

A heavy white cloud floating low in the sky completely hid the aviator and although the hum of the motor could be heard, the machine could not be sighted until Pilot Hassell dove out of the cloud.

Two complete circles of the fair grounds were made and the Gazette's newspaper was on hand to receive the papers and shortly after the people of Evansville were receiving their first papers shipped by airplane.

DOESN'T WANT OLD JOB BACK; CAPTAIN NOW GETS $5,000

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, June 11.—"I know a young man who was a waiter in a small town restaurant in pre-war days for $12 a week and tips," says Col.
Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war. "He had been in the national guard and managed to get an appointment as an officers training school. They sent him to war as a second lieutenant. He came back a captain with a medal and a citation."

"Nothing doing," he laughed, when the boss offered him his old job back in the restaurant with the promise of head waiter position in a few months. "I am a $5,000 a year man now."

"So he is. The other day the young captain got his $5,000 job with a big concern which has been called upon men to handle and he fits in admirably."

As industrial conditions improve, this seems to be the general run of lottery to the army employment commissioners from large employers. Such little stories as these and figures show that the average honorably discharged officer has no difficulty whatsoever in placing himself again in civil life.

Up to date according to a statement by Colonel Woods "there have been about 104,000 officers mustered out of service, who are now back in civil life."

Dyer on Prohibition Bill.
Washington.—In a cable to President Wilson, Representative Dyer appealed to the president to issue a proclamation void.

OPERATORS ORDERED TO LEAVE KEYS

UNION COMMERCIAL TELE-GRAPHERS START WALK-OUT THIS MORNING.

EXPECT 60,000
OUT BY TONIGHT

Issues Involved Include Right To Organize, Wages, Working Conditions.

Washington, June 11.—Postmaster General Burdett declared today that the amount of pressure would prevail to make the government wire control board "extend or go beyond rules and regulations of the war labor board, which have been strictly observed since the government took over control of the telegraph and telephone properties."

Mr. Burdett declared the strike of wire operators which began this morning was "wholly without justification."

Nation Wide Strike On Chicago, June 11.—The nation-wide strike of union Commercial Telegraphers, called by S. J. Koenekamp, international president of the Commercial Telegraphers Union of America, became effective at 7 o'clock this morning.

The companies against which the strike is called include the Western Union Telegraph company, the American Telegraph and Telephone company and a number of similar telegraph companies in various parts of the country.

Union officials estimated that 60,000 telegraphers would leave their keys during the day. They said that 18, more than 100,000 electrical workers would join the strike, while officials of the telegraph companies asserted that such numbers of employees were involved in Western Union officials said that only a few of their employees were members of the Commercial Telegraphers Union of America and that business over their lines would not be materially affected by the strike.

The issues involved in the strike include the right to organize and bargain collectively, wages and working conditions.

President Koenekamp established headquarters here and announced that he would direct the strike from this city.

A meeting of telegraphers early this morning "peaceful picketing" was decided upon, and at 7 o'clock pickets were placed around the general offices of the companies in this city.

Leased wire operators were not involved in the strike, but Mr. Koenek-amp said that it might be necessary to call them out in order to win the demands made by the commercial men.

A dispatch from Omaha, Neb., early this morning which states telegraphers in the Western Union and Postal companies walked out at midnight, first er denied, and it was said by officials of the company that none of their employees had quit work.

At Los Angeles, Calif., it was announced by J. T. Marshall, first international vice-president of the union, that operators of the Federal Telegraph company would not be ordered out as a "verbal agreement satisfactory to both sides has been reached."

"Operators of that company have been treated fairly," Mr. Marshall said and have been ordered to stick to their jobs.

Soon after the hour set for the strike, Mr. Koenekamp said, reports indicated the men were going out steadily.

He estimated that in this district comprising Illinois and part of Indiana and Wisconsin, about 2700 men of both the Western Union and the Postal companies would strike. In Chicago by some he expected 800 to 1,000 to be out.

One hour after the strike began the Western Union officials here said they had not been affected.

Postal officials say they expected their older men to stick but that some of the younger men might go out.
Mr. Koenekamp received a report that postal telegraphers in New Ore-lean had gone out and that telephone girls there probably would go out in sympathy.

At the Postal, there was a disturbance in which police interfered.
Some Western Union messengers announced that they were on strike.
General Superintendent E. W. Collins of the Postal said two hours after the strike began that about 80 percent of his men were out, mostly the younger men.

AUSTRIA COMPLAINS OF HARD CONDITIONS

Paris, June 11.—Carl Renner, Austrian chancellor and head of the Austrian peace mission, has sent a letter to the peace conference complaining of the "hard conditions" imposed upon his country, which he says is "overwhelmed with despair" and pointing out the complexity of the Austrian frontier question. The letter will be laid before the Council of Four tomorrow.

Class Well Represented.
Neenah, June 11.—Every male member of the 1913 graduating class from the Neenah high school was in some branch of military service during the recent war. The class will have a reunion banquet at the annual alumni banquet.

City Aids Fresh Air Fund.
Neenah, June 11.—The city council has appropriated the sum of $250 toward the fresh air fund. The fresh air camp maintained here every summer is for tubercularly inclined school children. The school nurse is in charge.

Shoe Co. Increases Stock.
Wausau, June 11.—The Marathon shoe company has increased its capital stock from $125,000 to $250,000 and has let a contract for an addition to its factory building 50 by 150 feet, two stories high. The company started here a few years ago, but is steadily employing 125 people and will double the number of employees and output when the addition is completed August 15.

Defers Brewery Assessments.
Milwaukee, June 11.—Assessors are deferring estimates of assessments against Milwaukee breweries, said E. H. Bodden, tax commissioner. "I have informed the brewers that their saloon properties will carry the customary tax," said Mr. Bodden, "but the question of taxes on brewery plants is deferred until the extent of prohibition becomes more clarified July 1 or later."

Army Pilot Discharged.
Rhinelander, June 11.—Lieut. Clarence Lindgreen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Lindgreen of this city, has reached here honorably discharged from army service. He was Rhinelander's only army pilot during the war.

Charged With Assault.
Antigo, June 11.—A charge of assault with intent to kill has been preferred against John Mainville, who dangerously shot Frank Parsons and Mrs. Anna Lilly here a week ago. Parsons died Sunday night, but it was believed the woman will recover.

Cheese Factory Burns.
Ashland, June 11.—The Cooperative Cheese factory was today destroyed by fire with a loss of $1500. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

100 Years Old.
Fond du Lac, June 11.—Emery O. Ackley, Brandon, still hale and hearty, never having indulged in liquor or tobacco, nor ill a day in his life, celebrated his one hundred birthday anniversary. Mr. Ackley walks down to the village center every day to do his marketing and chat with friends. His garden, planted every year, is a model for neatness. He has a daughter, Edith, with whom he makes his home; a son, Charles, Minneapolis; three grandchildren and several great grandchildren.

Is Dollar a Year Man.
Ashland, June 11.—Frank Warner is a "dollar a year man." Mr. Warner, a druggist in the Masonic temple, has represented the United States shipping board at Ashland for the past year. Recently he received a check for $1, and the voucher which accompanied it reads "for salary, May, 1918, to May, 1919." Mr. Warner intends to keep the check for a keepsake.

Paper Mill Enlarged.
Menasha, June 11.—Work will be commenced here soon on a large addition to the mill of the Paper Products company. The addition will be large enough to accommodate three big paper machines, but only one will be installed at the outset.

MARKETING BILL AGAIN BUMPS WALL IN LEGISLATURE

(BY FRED L. HOLMES.)
Madison, June 11.—The prospect of any marketing legislation at this session of the legislature was placed in doubt Tuesday night when the senate after two days of hearing killed the substitute measure, which was passed in the house two weeks ago by the vote of the farmer members. The original Skogmo bill was again received in the house from the senate Wednesday morning, but judged from the temper of the house it will not be concurred in. The assembly members claim that they will stand by their substitute measure, which was killed in the senate by a vote of 13 to 11.

The vote in the senate was as follows:
For the assembly bill: Bentley, Bever, Conant, Dennhart, Kleist, Olson, Peterson, Schultz, Staudenmayer, Wilcox, Zumach—11.
For the Skogmo bill: Anderson, Bennett, Bird, Buck, Clark, Cunningham, Mulberger, Nye, Roethe, Skogmo, Stevens, Wilkinson, Witter—13.
Paired: Kuckuk and Huber; Jennings and Severson; Foss and Arnold—3.

Absent—Bilgrien, Burke, and Pullen—3.
The Skogmo bill, which was again sent back to the assembly Tuesday night, was drawn by a special committee which has been investigating marketing. The assembly bill, which was killed in the senate, provided for a special marketing board, while the Skogmo bill provides for a market division within the department of agriculture.

The assembly bill contains provisions asking for investigations to be made of the production of farm products. Some three weeks ago the Skogmo bill passed the upper house, but the assembly adopted a substitute which changed the provisions of the measure. It was claimed that there were certain imperfections in the legal phraseology of the assembly bill, and Wilcox offered a substitute to remove these, but the senate killed the Wilcox substitute by a vote of 13 to 11.

These votes simply mean that the two houses are at logger heads on the marketing question.

BIRTH RECORDS IN STATE RANK HIGH; LIFE SAFEGUARDED

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, June 11.—Federal birth statistics as a criterion of high health standards present Wisconsin in excellent contrast with the most of the states comprising the birth registration area—20 in all. The census bureau's annual compilation of birth statistics, covering the year 1917, just received by the state board of health, gives the state a uniformly high rating. In Wisconsin's excess of births over deaths was 103 percent, while the average for the birth registration area was 74.4. Deaths of infants under 1 year of age per 1,000 living births were 77.8 in Wisconsin against 93.6 for the entire area. Both records are for the whole year. In 1907, when the state board of health was organized, the economic conditions, educational standards and public health work in general have led to safeguarding of human lives.

Wisconsin's excess of births over deaths in 1917 was one of four states in the area to attain more than 100 percent in the excess of births over deaths. The others were Minnesota, North Carolina, and Utah.

Among cities of more than 100,000 Milwaukee ranked unusually high. Wisconsin was admitted to the birth registration area in 1917 after a rigid federal test had disclosed that registration was more than 90 percent complete. The area now includes the six New England states, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Virginia, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin, and the District of Columbia, having an estimated population of 55,000,000, or about 53 percent of the estimated total population of the United States in that year.

The reports from the registration area show the birth of 14,394 pairs of twins and 155 sets of triplets in 1917—in all 29,258 babies, or a little more than 2 percent of the total number born.

WILDCAT FRAUD HEMMED IN BILL

Madison, June 11.—The new Coo amendment to the "Blue Sky" law, which puts "teeth" in the law and gives the railroad commission, which is designated to enforce it, power to regulate the sale of securities in Wisconsin, was reported out of the committee Tuesday afternoon. Because of the urgent need of the immediate legislation to stop the sale of "wildcat" stocks in Wisconsin, it is expected the bill will be reported out of the committee at once and will be rushed through both houses.

It has been claimed that residents of Wisconsin are being mulched of thousands of dollars every week by shrewd promoters of wildcat schemes who have discovered that the present "Blue Sky" law means but little in enforcement. The new bill, or the amendment to the old one, Assemblyman C. C. Coo, Barron, assisted by state senator Ray Clark of the railroad commission, has endeavored to safeguard the interests of both the investor and the corporation seeking capital. The endeavor has been to place as few restrictions as possible upon legitimate business and yet to be able to prevent the sale of such securities as would work a fraud upon the purchaser.

FAIR SIZED CROWD AT LABOR MEETING

A crowd which partially filled the main floor of the hotel and theater attended the mass meeting for the workmen and women of Janesville last night. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Janesville Federation of Labor.

Mr. Smith of this city presided as chairman and in opening the meeting told of how the city council refused to allow labor meetings to be held in the assembly room at the city hall unless the speakers were to be Janesville men or women.

Mr. Smith immediately started to assail the council for their move and in telling his audience of what happened he said, "This meeting was scheduled to be held two weeks ago but the members of the city hall that did not bear their stamp of approval."

Glenn E. Turner, who was introduced as a labor organizer, Attorney General John Blaine and J. J. Hanley of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor were presented to the crowd. They all gave short talks in which they told of the value and necessity of labor being organized.

SENATOR SPOONER, NOTED POLITICIAN, DIES IN NEW YORK

New York, June 11.—Senator John C. Spooner died at 1:30 Wednesday morning at his home, 207 West Fifty-second street.

Always the idol of the "old guard" the conservative wing of the republican party in Wisconsin, John C. Spooner was a dominant figure in politics in this state with the exception of the time that the Bennett law agitation turned Wisconsin over to the democrats.

His supremacy in the republican caucus was undisputed until Robert M. La Follette, after a long fight, was elected governor in 1900, wrested the machinery from his control and assumed the party leadership. In 1907 he resigned his seat in the senate with two years of his term unexpired and after 16 years' service in the upper house, went to New York to engage in the practice of law.

Mr. Spooner served in the Civil war and was breveted major for gallant conduct.

He was the author of the Panama canal bill and he took a leading part in providing legislation for the Philippines and the other insular possessions that fell to the United States as a result of the Spanish-American war. He was also an authority upon constitutions and international law.

PEACE AND WAR

Although agreement is still lacking on important features of the allied reply to the German counter proposals, hope was officially expressed after the meeting of the Council of Four in Paris Tuesday that a decision would be reached in a comparatively short time. It is indicated elsewhere, however, that there may still be considerable delay before the treaty is again submitted to the enemy delegation.

France is standing out against the immediate admission of Germany into the league of nations. It is because of Germany's "arrogant attitude" that France is resisting such action at present, it is said. France would not oppose the admission of Germany at a later date.

Advices state that the reparations clauses of the treaty have been agreed upon in principle and that the convention will not indicate any fixed sum which Germany must pay. It is declared in French circles that the treaty will be changed less than has been generally expected. In any event it is believed the reply will be short, covering generally all the German proposals and will be followed by reports of commissions showing reasons why the allies cannot grant specific requests made by the enemy delegation.

Karl Renner, the Austrian chancellor and head of Austria's peace mission, has sent a letter to the peace conference complaining of the harshness of the terms of the treaty presented to him and his colleagues at St. Germain.

Work on the clauses of the Austrian treaty which were reserved when the terms were presented at St. Germain, is apparently at a standstill, pending the settlement of the questions arising from the reply to the Hungarians.

Belk Kün, the foreign minister of the soviet government of Hungary, has telegraphed M. Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, agreeing to stop hostilities against Czech-Slovakia, although he blames the latter for causing the recent severe fighting along the frontier. A dispatch from Innsbruck states that Belk Kün has accepted an allied invitation to visit Paris and that he may head the Hungarian delegation which will explain the situation in Hungary.

It must be unhappily admitted that the president in his personal conduct of the task of peace-making, has made many mistakes. When he succeeded to the forces of secret diplomacy he made his own first point "open covenants, openly arrived at," against the president's regrets "the sound like nonsense. It is still possible he may recover his position with congress and the American people but as the United States senate."

It is a most difficult hazard."

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman and I like to go out evenings. My husband is 10 years older than I and he does not want to go anywhere. Also he does not like to have me go.

Will you please suggest a way for me to make him see that I am lonely? I have told him about everything I can think of. LONELY GIRL.

Married life requires compromise on the part of both husband and wife. You must realize that your husband is tired after his day's work and enjoys the quiet of his home. On the other hand he should realize that you need a change just as much as he needs rest after his work. To be fair to you, he should take you somewhere at least once in two weeks. If you want to go away often more than that, he will be willing to let you. I think, however, that you can find much of your enjoyment during the day, and that you should sacrifice your own desires to make his evenings more pleasant. If you want to go out once a week, of course that is not unreasonable.

Stay home with your husband a week or two without asking to go anywhere. Then when he is in particularly good humor suggest that you compromise whereby he does what you want him to do one night a week, if you stay in the home and make his evenings pleasant the rest of the week. In case he cannot agree to this, then without arguing, he will see for himself that he is not fair, and I think he will be sorry and decide to do his part.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young working girl, just 16, and realize I have little experience with men. Now a condition in my office has come up which I cannot handle. I have often held my hand and tries to make love to me while giving dictation.

What should I do? He will not take a rebuff and I am afraid to be too firm as it is a good position.

You cannot be too firm. Never compromise even if you suffer for the time being. Unless your employer will be a gentleman, leave his employ. There are other positions and if you work conscientiously you will succeed no matter where you are. Explain the situation to your parents so that they will understand your motive for making the change.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been keeping company with a young man for about three months and he has been lovely to me, but I have told him I could not go with him as people have advised me not to.

They say he is not good enough for me and that his company will not do me any good. He says he loves me and he can't give me up and no matter how many times I tell him not to call on me he comes and asks me to wait for him.

He is a very well-to-do fellow and in my company and as far as I know is a perfect gentleman. Will you kindly advise me as to what to do?

The people who advise you to drop the young man may be jealous of your good fortune in knowing him. Use your own judgment and if you are confident that his character is as good as he pretends to be, do not drop him. Remember, however, it is easier to keep one's reputation than it is to get it back when it is gone.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Should a girl invite a boy into the house when he calls to take her home?

She should invite him to come in and sit down while she puts on her wraps.

SLIP OVER BLOUSE FOR COUNTRY WEAR

By ELOISE.

The shops are busy showing their displays of blouses for summer days. These are smart, crisp looking organizes and dimities with neat cuffs and collars for town wear. Then there are the sporty, sporty blouses and the popular georgettes, plain, figured and striped. These are smart for dress wear either for town or country. The favored blouse of the season is the Russian blouse, in slip-over style.

It comes in almost every fabric imaginable, but the better ones are made of georgette or chiffon. When worn with the white sailor sporty skirts or the colored novelty silk skirts, which are the whim of the season, such blouses make very dainty costumes which look like frocks instead of separate skirts and waists.

This blouse pictured is made on the Russian style and is ideal for the summer beaches or the stay in the country. White georgette crepe with a wide border at the bottom of the blouse and adding the short sleeves is made of red georgette to match. Red and white color dots is a striking combination for wear with a white skirt. A wide border at the bottom of the blouse and adding the short sleeves is made of red georgette to match. get it written down. And it is perfectly wonderful how you can find time to do the things you plan to do. How To Be Indifferent To An Idea.

Did you by any chance see in the current number of a well known magazine the advice of a famous business man on what to do when you get an idea? The first thing was "Make your plan in writing."

"Most of us carry our plans in our head," he says. "At night in bed they come and you dream about them. But when you get up in the morning you find that they have no real form. And that they have no real form shows up instantly when you try to put them down in writing. The first thing was 'Make your plan in writing.'"

The same gain in definiteness comes to a plan or a good intention when you set it down in writing and put it down in writing and put it down in writing. What Joy In Getting One Hundred Per Cent.

One of the rewards of this way of keeping your energy properly directed is that you are sure to get a crossing off those jobs at night. Such a pride as one feels when one gets one hundred per cent!

Of course, one must be careful not to let one's pride go too far. You must be able to judge your capacity and not constantly put down more things than you can do. Because if you do and never get them done, that breeds a nervous and disconcerting agent breeds relaxation of effort.

Also you must be able to throw the whole thing overboard on a way when some worthwhile adventure beckons or when you are not well and everything you do takes twice as much out of you as it would under normal conditions. Knowing when to break rules on the tenth day is only second in importance to having the strength of mind to keep them on the other nine.

BIRTH MARKS

A little girl 12 years old has a bright red mark extending from her eye to her ear, with much white present at birth, her mother states. And just lately another blotch has come near the first mark which adds to the unhappiness of the little girl. What this recent blotch is may be impossible to suggest.

What causes birthmarks? Well, the unromantic truth is that the notion of "marking" is 100 per cent myth. The wonderful part of it is that so many of us are born without a blemish, that nature makes so few mistakes.

There are various remedies available for birthmarks or blemishes of various kinds. Among them are the electric needle in medical or surgical use to remove the mark. The most difficult birthmarks to eradicate are the port wine stains, but when these are perceptibly elevated above the skin level they are more successfully removed by surgery.

In nearly every case the appearance may be greatly improved by proper treatment. BIRTH MARKS.

THE WISHING PLANE

BY WILLIS WINTER

When the children and their friends left the Bronx house, Captain Brave said, "Do you children know who Joan of Arc was?"

The children had to admit that they didn't, but Ladydare helped them out by explaining that Joan of Arc was a brave French girl who led France's soldiers in war many hundreds of years ago. She was later burned to death by France's enemies for her part in the war.

Then Captain Brave said, "We are now going to Rouen, the beautiful city on the Seine river. It was in this city that Joan of Arc was tried and forced to die."

So they went back to the airplane, and started on the next day's journey. The children knew this city must have been built ages and ages ago.

This amount is enough for a three-layer cake. Half of the recipe makes enough filling for cake given above. Any boiled frosting will do for top and sides.

Cocoa Cake—Bowl one-half cup cocoa with one-half cup sweet milk; cool slightly, then add one cup sugar, tablespoon shortening, one teaspoon vanilla, one-half cup hot milk, one egg, and one cup flour. Beat four minutes in the milk, yolk of one egg. Use white for frosting.

Spice Cake—One cup brown sugar, one-half cup lard, one cup sour milk, one cup flour, one cup soda, two tablespoons dark molasses, two eggs, two cups flour, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon allspice, one-half teaspoon cloves. Bake in two layers.

SWISH! SWISH!

"Gallie!" cried Mrs. Gallie, furiously, "Where have you been? How dare you come home so late? Where have you been again? What have you been doing?"

"S-S-Scrapppa," began Gallie, soothingly. "I was only sitting on top of old Pisa (see footnote) dropping down stone bricks on the town below. I was just to prove my contention that she leans away, see? And when any— (See Borneo Wilde's 'New Excuses for Old Rounders'.)

"Venetio!" swore Scappa, and she picked up a sharp vendetta and hurried it at Gallie, who dodged it and it buried itself harmlessly in the baby's crib.

Thinking that Scappa must be angry, Gallie made eight-foot strides toward the door but Scappa caught him in the back of the neck with a pair of spider-like, not to mention all.

"The stars are bright tonight," murmured Gallie, as he sank to the floor, although he was indoors at the time.

Early the next morning, Gallie was awakened by something swishing across his face like a brush and what was his surprise to find that he had hit the hay in the barn the night before, after he had escaped unscathed from Scappa's vigorous disapproval of his doings.

It was fortunate though, that outside of a stabbing pain down his spine, a splitting headache and a gash across his left eye, Gallie felt all right.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

BY MARGARET SANGSTER

This is the story of how Mrs. Haviland H. Lund came to found the "Forward-to-the-Farm" league.

Some 30 odd years ago Mrs. Lund was born of a Quaker family on a Montana farm. Having finished her education, she went to Chicago, where she spent much of her time on philanthropic work.

"I was filled with natives and foreigners who depended on charity to keep themselves; who were eager for work but unable to get it; who would give anything for a home in the heart of the country."

So did the sight of these things wear on the nerves of Mrs. Lund that she soon found herself obliged to take a rest cure. Her manner of doing so was to take up a homestead at Tucson, Ariz., and work her own land.

Now she found a different kind of pleasure.

Here was land, bare land, lying fallow and deserted because there was no man at hand to make it work—acres of it by the thousand crying out for cultivation and people the thousands crying out for the chance!

Why should it not be possible to bring the two together. Mrs. Lund set herself to a solution of this problem. It was some ten years ago.

When her vacation was over she repaired to Los Angeles, where she started a paper, called the Little Farms Magazine.

It was to warn investors and to combat unscrupulous land brokers that Mrs. Lund conducted that paper in Los Angeles. And the paper was a success.

The politicians in Los Angeles having proved too powerful, she determined to go east for that. Her headquarters after a while were made in New York, where she started her league. All the time she was bringing her work to more and more people, and she had definitely decided on a program that she found her great league.

It is on the principle that man is meant to be a social animal, a creature of his kind, that Mrs. Lund has drawn up her scheme.

"The standard we set forth," she said "requires at least 50 farms, fully equipped with animals and implements and of not less than five acres. And the families for these farms must go out as units under the direction of a market expert and agricultural instructor."

She has waged her fight practically single-handed all her life—a fight on the men who are exploiting rural America for a petty, personal gain. The object of her fight is better citizens who are farm owners."

THEY NEED EXPERIENCE. London police magistrates declare that the most difficult thing for the woman police officer to learn in connection with her duties is how to give evidence properly and in accordance with the rules, when she appears against a prisoner in the police court.

Woman, 85, Comes From India to Attend Meeting

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.) Geneva, Tuesday, June 10.—Dona. Charlot, aged 85, an alleged spy who traveled on a false American passport under the name of Mrs. H. H. Parker, arrived in Geneva, Monday when she was arrested.

She made frequent trips between Italy and Germany by the way of Switzerland during the war and is alleged to have obtained important military information from allied officers. She was a member of a group named "The Lady of the Camellias," because she always wore the flowers.

She was a beautiful woman and posed as an American. She was a guest of the best hotels, had plenty of money and wore the latest Parisian fashions, which it is stated, were supplied by the German political department.

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.) Boston, June 11.—Although 85 years of age, Mrs. Viola Lee Parker, widow of the late Bishop Edward Parker of India, came all the way from that country alone to attend the jubilee of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of which she was one of the founders. Mrs. Parker has been in missionary work in India 61 years and is the sole survivor of that small group of women who started the missionary movement half a century ago.

Haig Strong for Milk; Cows Follow Everywhere. (BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.) London, June 11.—During Sir Douglas Haig's numerous moves immediately before November he was accompanied everywhere by a couple of Jersey cows, writes a correspondent of the Manchester Guardian. When the commander-in-chief's train moved the cows were put aboard a lorry and followed slowly after the train, and when the stopping place was reached were turned out on any available bit of grassland. And so Sir Douglas always had fresh milk for breakfast.

Helps Teachers Direct Student Publications

Madison, June 11.—For high school teachers interested in directing students' weekly and monthly publications, the University of Wisconsin is offering three courses during the six-week summer session, which opens June 30.

Newspaper reporting, copy-reading, and heading writing, the organization of the news-writing staff, and the teaching of journalistic writing are the subjects to be presented for teachers. The editorial and business management of high school newspapers and magazines will be taken up in a special teachers' course.

THIN, FRAIL FOLKS NEED PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Nitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

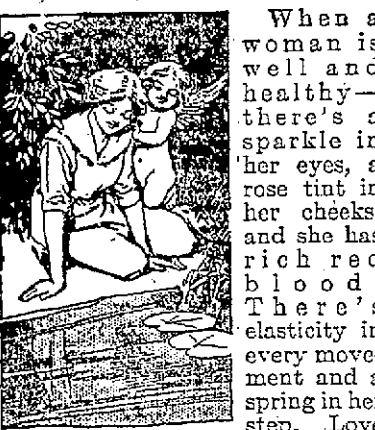

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to a lack of phosphorus. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as Nitro-Phosphate. It is inexpensive and is sold by Smith Drug Co., Jansville, Fla., and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, Nitro-Phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance, and increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

CAUTION: Although Nitro-Phosphate is an excellent reliever of nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

NATURE'S MIRROR

When a woman is well and healthy—there's a sparkle in her eyes, a rose tint in her cheeks, and she has rich red blood. There's elasticity in every movement and a spring in her step. Love comes to every woman who has bounding health—but when she is pallid, dull eyed, languid, she has no magnetism nor does she appeal to any man.

Such a change in feelings and looks!

After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged down by weaknesses of her sex—with eyes sunken, black circles and pale cheeks—such a woman is quickly restored to health by the Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce. Changed, too, in looks, for after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the skin becomes clear, the eyes brighter, the cheeks plump. It is purely vegetable, contains no alcohol.

Druggists sell it in tablets or liquid. Send Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y., 10c for trial package.

And we went our ways till the evening. I to post home to the further study of the narrative. There, seated at the pleasant veranda, I went over it carefully, sentence by sentence. While I was reading, someone called me indoors. I put down the manuscript on the little bamboo table at my side and went in. When I returned a few moments afterward the manuscript was gone!

CHAPTER III.

I Charter the "Maggie Darling." As luck would have it, the loss, or rather the theft of Henry P. Tobias's narrative was not so serious as it at first seemed, for it fortunately chanced that John Saunders had had it copied; but the theft remained none the less mysterious.

However, leaving that mystery for later solution, John Saunders, Charlie Webster and I spent the next evening in a general and particular criticism of the narrative itself. There were several obvious objections to be made against its authenticity. To start with, Tobias, at the time of his deposition, was an old man—seventy-five years old—and it was more than probable that his experiences as a pirate would date from his early manhood; they were hardly likely to have taken place as late as his fortieth year. The narrative, indeed, suggested their taking place much earlier, and there would thus be a space of at least forty years between the burial of the treasure and his deathbed revelation. It was natural to ask: Why during all those years did he not return and retrieve the treasure for himself? Various circumstances may have prevented him, the inability from lack of means to make the journey, or what not; but certainly one would need to imagine circumstances of peculiar power that should be strong enough to keep a man with so valuable a secret in his possession so many years from taking advantage of it.

For a long while, too, the names given to the purported sites of the treasure caches puzzled us. Modern maps give no such places as "Dead Men's Shoes" and "Short Shift Island," but at last, in a map dating back to 1763, we came upon one of the two names. So far the veracity of Tobias was supported. "Dead Men's Shoes" proved to be the old name for a certain cove some twenty miles long, about a day and a half's sail from Nassau, one of the long string of coral islands now known as the "Exuma Cays." But of "Short Shift Island" we sought in vain for a trace.

"All the same," said I, "the adventure calls me; the adventure and that million and a half dollars—and those 'Dead Men's Shoes'—and I intend to undertake it. I am not going to let your middle-aged skepticism discourage me. Treasure or no treasure, there will be all the fun of the sea."

"And some shark fishing for the quest," said John.

The next thing was to set about getting a boat and a crew.

After looking over much likely and unlikely craft we finally decided on a two-masted schooner of trim but solid build, the Maggie Darling, 42 feet over all and 13 beam; something under twenty tons, with an auxiliary gasoline engine of 24 horse power, and an alleged speed of ten knots.

Next, the crew. "You will need a captain, a cook, an engineer and a deckhand," said Charlie, "and I have the captain and the cook all ready for you."

That afternoon we rounded them all up, including the engineer and the deckhand, and we arranged to start, weather permitting, with the morning tide, which set east at six o'clock on July 13, 1903.

Ship's stores were the next detail, and these, including fifty gallons of gasoline, over and above the tanks and three barrels of water, being duly got aboard, on the evening of July 12 all was ready for the start; an evening which was naturally spent in a parting convale in John Saunders's snugery.

"Why, one important thing you've forgotten," said Charlie. "Machetes and spades and pickaxes. And I'd take a few sticks of dynamite along with you too. I can let you have the lot. We'll get them aboard tonight."

"It's a pity you have to give it away that it's a treasure hunt," said John, "but then you can't keep the crew from knowing. And they're a queer lot on the subject of treasure, have some of the rummiest superstitions. I hope you won't have any trouble with them."

"And any experience in handling niggers?" asked Charlie.

"Not the least!" "That makes me wish I were coming with you. They are run beggars. Awful cowards, and just like a pack of children. You know about sailing anyhow. That's a good thing. You can captain your own boat, if need be. That's all to the good. Particularly if you strike any dirty weather. But let me give you one word of advice: Be kind, of course, with them—but keep your distance all the same. And be careful about losing your temper. You get more out of them by coaxing—hard as it is, at times. And, by the way, how would you like to take old 'Sailor' with you?"

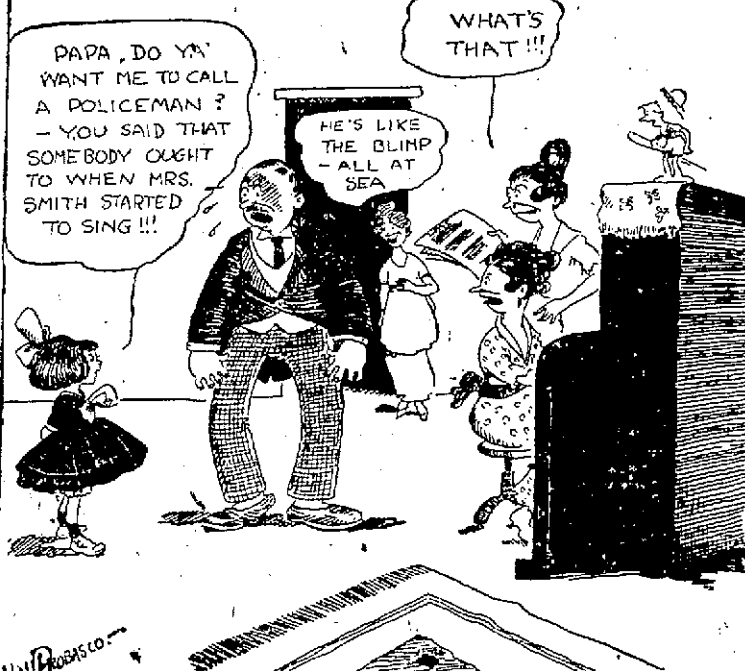

"Sailor" was a great Labrador retriever, who at that moment turned up his big head with a devoted sigh from behind his master's chair. "Rather," I said. So "Sailor" was thereupon enrolled as a further addition to the crew.

"Old Tom," the cook, was first on hand next morning. I took to him at once. A simple, kindly old "darky" of "Cade Tom's Cabin" type, with faithfulness written all over him, and a certain sad wisdom in his old face.

"You'll find Tom a great cook," said Charlie, patting the old man on the shoulder. "Many a trip we've taken together after duck, haven't we, Tom?"

TERRIBLE TESSIE

-AND MRS. SMITH IS THE BOSS'S WIFE

W.H. PIERCE CO.

"That's right, son. That's right," said the old man, his eyes twinkling with pleasure.

Then came the captain—Capt. Jabez Williams—a younger man, with an intelligent, self-respecting manner, somewhat noncommittal, businesslike, evidently not particularly anxious as to whether he pleased or not, but looking competent and civil enough.

Next came the engineer, a young, hulking bronze giant, a splendid physical specimen, but rather heavy and sullen and not over-intelligent to look at. The deckhand proved to be a shabby, rather silly, effeminate fellow, suggesting "Idiot," but doubtless wiry and good enough for the purpose.

While they were busy getting up the anchor of the Maggie Darling I went down into my cabin to arrange various odds and ends, and presently came the captain, touching his hat.

"There's a party," he said, "outside here wants to know if you'll take him passenger to Spanish Wells."

"We're not taking passengers," I answered, "but I will look him over."

A man was standing up in a row-boat, leaning against the ship's side. "You'd do me a great favor, sir," he began to say in a soft, ingratiating voice.

I looked at him with a start of recognition. He was my pocketwatch friend, who had made such an unpleasant impression on me at John Saunders's office. He was rather more gentlemanly looking than he had seemed at the first view, and I saw that, though he was a halfbreed the white blood predominated.

"I don't want to intrude," he said, "but I have urgent need of getting to Spanish Wells, and there's no boat going that way for a week. I've just missed the mail."

"I didn't think of taking any passengers," I said.

"I know," he said. "I know it's a great favor I ask." He spoke with a certain cultivation of manner. "But I am willing of course to pay anything you think well for my food and my passage."

I walked that suggestion aside and stood irresolutely looking at him, with no very hospitable expression in my eyes. I dare say. But really my distaste for him was an unconscious prejudice, and Charlie Webster's phrase came to my mind—"His face is against the poor devil!"

It certainly was.

Then at last I said, surely not over-graciously: "Very well. Get aboard. You can help work the boat," and with that I turned away to my cabin.

Asks Wife for Fifteen Cents; Refused, Divorced

Whiting, Ind., June 17.—Joe Pardine of Whiting asked his wife for 15 cents with which to purchase cigarettes. She refused, saying she had given him 16 cents out of his last pay for the same purpose. At another time he needed the services of a physician, but his wife refused to give him $3. He borrowed it from a fellow worker, and that night she took it from his pockets. Now he is asking for a divorce.

Surplus Army Leather is Sold at Auction

Philadelphia, Tuesday, June 10.—More than $2,000,000 worth of surplus leather purchased for war purposes was sold by the government here yesterday at public auction. The sale will continue until the entire stock valued at approximately $4,000,000 is disposed of.

Courts Martial Hearings Resumed in Chicago

Chicago, Tuesday, June 10.—Hearings of the special committee of American Bar Ass'n., investigating courts martial was resumed today with Major Frederick Brown, president of the Illinois Bar association, Capt. John W. Beckwith and Col. Eugene R. West, head of the legislative section of the judge advocate's office in Washington, on the list of witnesses to be heard. His was stated today that the committee would continue its hearings here all week and then proceed to Washington to draw up official recommendations.

Airplane Mail Time Saver; Kansas City to New York

Kansas City, Mo., June 11.—Sixteen hours are saved Kansas City merchants and bankers who send their mail to New York by airplane, according to Bayless Steele, postmaster of Kansas City. The aerial mail sail is closed at the local postoffice at 5 o'clock in the evening, is sent to Chicago by airplane, arriving there the next morning. It leaves Chicago by airplane at 9:30 and arrives at Cleveland at 1 o'clock. Transferred there to fast mail trains, it is delivered the next morning in New York and other eastern cities.

Dinner Stories

Mr. Jinks came home at an unseemingly late hour one night, and was surprised to see a figure sitting up for him below the stairs, with no other light than that of the gas lamp to keep her company.

"M-M-Marie," he said huskily, "you should not set up late when I'm on business."

As Mrs. Jinks did not answer him, he continued in an alarmed voice: "Sherry, my dear, it's late—last time—tell me you're sorry."

At that moment Mrs. Jinks' voice heard from the top of the stairs: "Who are you talking to at this hour of the night?" she asked.

"I thought you were going to search for 'want places,'" he said. "You are looking at the death columns." "I know," she replied. "I wish to see what cooks have lost their employers."

The lady of the house lacked a cook, an said she would have a look at the advertisements. Her husband noticed that she was searching through the death notices. "I thought you were going to search for 'want places,'" he said. "You are looking at the death columns." "I know," she replied. "I wish to see what cooks have lost their employers."

"When I say a thing," remarked Biggins, "I mean it. I never change my mind." "I'm mighty glad to hear it," replied the diffident friend. "I remember some mighty interesting things you said about paying back $10 you once borrowed."

Population of British Isles Shows Decrease

London, June 11.—The population of the British Isles continues to fall. The chief reason is the high cost of living.

Birth statistics for England and Wales for the first quarter of 1919 show 144,920 arrivals into the world while 191,922 persons died during the same period, leaving a net loss in population of 47,002. During the last quarter of 1918 deaths exceeded births by 30,130.

The first quarter of 1918 showed an increase of 24,030 births over deaths, while for the same period of 1917 it was 14,819 and for 1916, 51,952.

Influenza, affecting all persons of low vitality, accounted for 20 per cent of the deaths of the last quarter.

Ohio Farmers All "Het Up" at Airplane Noises

Sandusky, O., June 11.—Farmers hereabouts are all "het up" at the new Cleveland, Chicago air mail service goes right over their farms without so much as asking permission. And, believe it or not as you like, their live stock has been rendered highly nervous because of the loud whirr of the propellers and the sharp explosions of the motors on the airplanes.

Old Dobbin has become more skittish than he has been since the day he first saw an automobile. And an innocent little lamb became so excited that it ran through a screen door, losing all of its wool. Postmaster General Clegg, in his car, quipped and told the complaining farmers that if that didn't work to "tell it to Burleson."

Crowder to Resume Work on Cuba's Election Laws

Washington, June 11.—Maj. Gen. Enoch Crowder, former provost marshal general, who returned to Washington recently to supervise the preparation of legislation affecting the modification of the army's court martial procedure, will return to Cuba within a fortnight to complete his work there in connection with revision of the republic's election laws.

Yeggs Get Away With Safe Containing Loot of $106

St. Louis, Mo., June 11.—Police are searching for a 200-pound safe which was taken from a store of the Kroger Grocery and Baking company here. The safe contained $106.

Two men were seen driving away from the store by a patrolman. They got away before the officer could challenge them.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

What Is Rheumatism? Why Suffer from It?

Sufferers Should Realize That It Is a Blood Infection and Can Be Permanently Relieved.

Rheumatism means that the blood has become saturated with uric acid poison.

It does not require medical advice to know that good health is absolutely dependent upon pure blood. When the muscles and joints become sore and drawn with rheumatism, it is not a wise thing to take a little salve and by rubbing it on the sore spot, expect to get rid of your rheumatism. You must go deeper than that, down deep into the blood where the poison lurks and which is not affected by salves and ointments. It is important that you rid yourself of this terrible disease before it goes too far. S. S. S. is the blood purifier that has stood the test of time, having been in constant use for more than fifty years. It will do for you what it has done for thousands of others, drive the rheumatic poisons out of your blood, making it pure and strong and enabling it to make you well. S. S. S. is guaranteed pure and harmless, it will do the work and not harm the most delicate stomach. Write the physician of this Company and let him advise with you. Advice is furnished without charge. Address Swift Specific Company, 253 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Special Air Mail Stamps Printed for French P. O.

Paris, June 11.—A special stamp for mail matter sent by air is being printed for the French postoffice. In the center of the design is a head of Captain Guynemer, the famous flier; on the left is a view of Issy-les-Mou-lineaux, the cradle of French aviation, and on the right an aeroplane flying over the Seine. The stamp, which is to be in black, blue and red, will not be issued to the public, but will be affixed to correspondence sent by the post-office to correspondents of the press. The charge will be, in addition to the ordinary postal rates, 20 cents for one and one-half pounds and 25 cents for two pounds.

PADEREWSKI—Premier of Poland AND MASTER PIANIST USES NUXATED IRON

To Obtain Renewed Energy, Power and Endurance

Dr. Kenneth K. MacAlpine, for 16 Years Adjunct Professor New York Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital, Says That in His Opinion Nuxated Iron is

The Most Valuable Tonic, Strength and Blood Builder Any Physician Can Prescribe.

Ignace Jan Paderewski, the new Polish Premier who took Nuxated Iron when he was in a weak and run-down condition and needed something to build up strength and energy.

Ignace Jan Paderewski, one of the greatest musical geniuses of the age, at a time when his untiring work for Poland overtaxed his strength and impaired his health, had recourse to Nuxated Iron of which he helped rebuild his wasted forces and restore his old-time health and strength.

"With the tremendous strain imposed by over two years of almost ceaseless work in the cause of his native land, which he is the foremost figure today, it is easily understood why Paderewski sought the sustaining tonic benefit of Nuxated Iron, says Dr. Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, 'Black of the blood, not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of the virile force, that stamina and power, which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. Thousands of men and women are impairing their constitutions, laying themselves open to illness and literally losing their grip on health, simply because their blood is thinning out and possibly starving through lack of iron. It is absolutely essential to enable your blood to transform the food you eat into muscular tissue and brain. Without iron there is no muscular vitality, no nervous force to combat obstacles or withstand severe strains. To help make strong sturdy men of blood and iron there is nothing better than organic Iron—Nuxated Iron. Mr. Paderewski says: 'I am using Nuxated Iron very frequently and consider it an excellent tonic for my system.'
